From the Pastor's Desk

My dear Parishioners,

We are back to green vestiture symbolizing Ordinary Time, the longest season of the church year.

As summer approaches, we look for some relaxation and down time. Life is filled with challenges and consumed with activities. Many struggle to find time to even share a meal with their families. Let's face it, the summer will slip by, all too quickly, and we will not have accomplished much of what we had hoped to do.

It was no different for Jesus and his followers. Today, Jesus' young ministry is faced with many of the same challenges that face us. Jesus has just appointed his apostles, 12 men of varying backgrounds and life experiences—men who will soon understand the demands of discipleship, the sacrifices they will be called to make. Eager to learn from Jesus, they must have wondered what they had gotten themselves into in those early days.

The scene in today's gospel is one of chaos, of crowds so demanding the disciples find it impossible "even to eat." Jesus family, concerned with how his actions reflect on them, claim he is out of their mind. The scribes, fearful of the growing crowd, say Jesus himself is possessed.

And how does Jesus respond? As he so often does, with a parable; with a story meant to guide the listener to look at life from another perspective. To look at life's challenges, not from society's norms, but from the perspective of the Father's love, one that calls us to a deeper understanding of what it means to be his children.

"Family" was everything during Jesus' time, defining status, wealth, security. Without family, a person was lost and without support. Yet Jesus redefines what family is, who family is. In the closing verses of today's gospel, Jesus presents the greatest challenge to his followers then and to us: "Who are my mother and my brothers? And looking around at those seated in the circle he said, 'Here are my mother and brothers. For whoever does the will of God is my brother and sister and mother.'"

A friend of mine once remarked that being a Christian is not an insurance policy against anything bad happening. What it does mean is that Jesus will always be with us. Challenges, too, will always be with us. But those challenges help us grow in our faith, give us strength for the journey, help us grow closer to our Lord.

Sincerely,

Father Ed
