From the Pastor's Desk

My dear Parishioners,

In preparing for a vigil service for a longtime parishioner, the priest asked his non-Catholic widow if there were any special prayers or readings that she might like him to read. "I don't care," she said, "just do what priests normally do."

The following night at the vigil the priest explained that the widow wanted him to do what priests normally do. So he began with, "I'm here to ask for money."

After his resurrection, when Jesus appeared to the disciples in the locked room on that evening of the first day of the week, they were empowered to do more than what disciples normally do. Jesus gave them his blessings of peace and breathed the Holy Spirit into them, giving them the power to forgive sins and also the power to withhold forgiveness from those sinners who chose to remain guilty and bound. This way they could do more than what they normally did.

The priest in the vigil service story surely went on to do what he really does—to comfort and lead the family in prayer for the deceased. As today's living disciples of Jesus, we are called to step out in faith and do more than what we normally do.

At Pentecost, the Holy Spirit empowers the disciples to speak. The goal of the Year of Faith is to deepen our faith so that we may be empowered witnesses to the Gospel. What still keeps us from speaking about our faith? What gifts of the Holy Spirit do we need to grow into more faithful, genuine discipleship?

Sincerely,

Father Ed
