ALL SOULS MASS FOR DECEASED PARISHIONERS

Monday, November 4th
 7:00 p.m.
 St. Philip Neri Church

My dear Parishioners,

The healing of the lepers in today's Gospel has been traditionally interpreted as a lesson in the gratitude that is properly due to God and to Jesus. However, the healing of the lepers also shows that God's mercies were to be extended to all, and that they were unconditional in regard to gender, ethnicity or worthiness. All, with exception, were healed. However, healing does not ultimately translate into salvation, as we see in the exchange between Jesus and the returning Samaritan. In returning to give thanks to Jesus, the Samaritan indicates that he has come to believe, and that in believing, he appropriates the gift of God offered to him in Jesus. He is not praised solely for his gratitude but for accepting the challenge to believe. Jesus underscores the significance of the Samaritan action by declaring, "Your faith has saved you."

Our responsorial response from Psalm 98 reveals an insight: "The Lord has revealed to the nations his saving power. It is to all nations that God offers justice, kindness, faithfulness. All are saved by the power of this wondrous God. In the first reading we hear about Nathan, a commander in the army of Aram, a foreigner that threatened Israel. This enemy came to the prophet Elisha for healing and was sent to wash in the Jordan. Cleansed, he returned to thank Elisha and proclaimed his intention to worship the God of Israel. The scriptures today show God's intention to save all people, even foreign enemies. There are no boundaries to God's loving care and compassion.

Sincerely,

Father Ed

WORLD MISSION SUNDAY

Next Weekend our parish will celebrate World Mission Sunday. This year we are welcome Servants of the Lord and the Virgin Matara-SSVM Missions. "Our charism is the grace to know how to work concretely in order to prolong Christ in families, in education, in mass media, in intellectuals and in all other legitimate manifestations of the life of man. It is the gift to make each man "like a new Incarnation of the Word," by being essentially missionary and Marian. (Const. 31)" For more information visit:
