My Dear Parishioners,

It is only four days after Christmas. Sales (50 or 60 percent off) have sold out the last of the ornaments, wrappings and cards. Those complicated toys that took all night to assemble now suffer broken appendages. Family tension mounts as the sugar high from all the home-baked goodies take hold. And amid all this Christmas frivolity, the Church calls us to push the pause button and reflect upon the Holy Family.

Now some of us think of that family and see the holy card of days past: Joseph in his carpenter's apron, Mary looking serene and calm, and the baby Jesus perfectly content on mom's lap. And don't forget, they all have their halos in place. When we think about imitating this family our first impulse is to say: "Are you kidding? They made it. Jesus was an only child - and God, besides!" The truth is this family experienced more pain than most will ever endure. Yet, through it all, they kept their faith and remained obedient to God's word. They may not have had drugs, gangs or consumerism to battle, but Mary and Joseph certainly had rough political situations with which to struggle - Herod was after their baby!

In the gospel, certain verbs stand out and repeat. We are told that Joseph got up...took the child and his mother...and left...and returned. This simple uncomplicated description of Joseph's reaction to the angel's message becomes our command. It does not matter what our household looks like or what our marital status may be, everyone is being called to manifest those same characteristics. Whoever we are, wherever we are, we are called to say "yes" and be active participants in God's plan. Like this family, we cannot control situations or outcomes, but we can control our reactions. We can open ourselves to God's commands or turn inward in self-absorption.

My friends, our families are not perfect, but never doubt that God's Grace is always at work in us and in our families. Our most important job is to help our families grow in holiness as we open ourselves more and more to that grace.

Sincerely,

Father Ed
