My Dear Parishioners,

Blah! We have moved into ordinary time. Christmas is over. The January doldrums have set in. We are surrounded by the same plain old life and the same plain old people.

The Super Bowl might break the post-Christmas blahs for football fans. Snow banks can become snow forts for those who like to dig. Otherwise, blah. Where's the adventure? Where's the excitement? Those big moments like Christmas and weddings and vacation mark our lives; it's the six-tiered cake pictures that go into our memory books!

The baptism of Jesus was a big moment. In today's gospel, John the Baptist is still talking about it. He is remembering: "I have seen!" He is telling others about how the dove descended and how the Lord spoke: "and I have testified!" He is about to send his followers into action.

Ordinary time is the time for remembering. Then we put memory into action. Isaiah remembers how God formed him in the womb and called him to a life of prophetic service; therefore, he call the Israelites back, to be a holy nation. The psalmist remembers how God drew him out of a pit of destruction and put a new song in his mouth. Therefore, he wants to follow: "To do your will is my delight."

So how do we work our way through Ordinary Time? We remember. Then we act. Every day is a remembering, followed by the noble adventure of following Jesus. Thus it is the everyday moments that make our lives. We may not have a picture of Mom's oatmeal in our memory books, but it nourished us daily. We may not have a picture of the hug that quieted our tears, but it shaped our soul. Day-to-day personal holiness—the faithfulness, kindness and honesty of everyday life— that is what history is made of.

Sincerely,

Father Ed
